

Arthur Ambartsumyan is the Technology Director at Ascendix Technologies, where he leads a global team delivering Salesforce optimization, AI-driven automation, and data analytics for commercial real estate leaders. He helps firms streamline deal cycles, enhance investor relations, and future-proof operations through practical, results-driven digital transformation. Outside of Ascendix, Arthur hosts The Concrete Voice podcast and speaks internationally on the innovation in commercial real estate.