

Jonathan Buckelew is a leading voice in Real Estate AI, known for pioneering practical applications of artificial intelligence across the multifamily sector. As Vice President of Asset Management at PEAK, he drives operational innovation while scaling investor relations and portfolio performance. Jonathan is the founder of the widely read newsletter The IndustrAI, which empowers real estate professionals to adopt transformative AI workflows. He also co-founded CRE AI Studio, an educational platform dedicated to centralizing tools, resources, and webinars for commercial real estate AI adoption. Through his work, Jonathan is shaping the future of property technology by making AI accessible, actionable, and a catalyst for industry-wide progress