

Tony DiBlasi

President, Affordable Housing Training Academy (AHTA)
EVP, Ohio Capital Corporation for Housing

Mr. DiBlasi joined Ohio Capital Corporation for Housing (OCCH) in 2003 and currently serves as President of the Affordable Housing Training Academy (AHTA) and Executive Vice President of OCCH. AHTA, a wholly owned subsidiary of OCCH, specializes in delivering high-quality, online, and on-demand training for professionals in the affordable housing industry.

In his role at OCCH, Mr. DiBlasi leads the organization's technology initiatives, overseeing IT infrastructure and the ongoing development of the PIXUS platform along with the execution of OCCH's AI strategy.

Before joining OCCH, he spent eight years in the affordable housing sector at National Church Residences, a nationwide provider of affordable housing and supportive services, where he held various leadership roles.

Mr. DiBlasi holds multiple industry certifications, including Housing Credit Certified Professional (HCCP), Specialist in Housing Credit Management (SHCM), Certified Housing Asset Manager (CHAM), Non-Profit Housing Management Specialist (NHMS), and Fair Housing Compliance (FHC). He earned a bachelor's degree in Political Science and International Relations from Ohio University.